

Witness Against Torture From Guantánemo to Chicago

Join Us!

Friday, January 11 • 4:30pm
Federal Plaza (Dearborn and Adams)

To Demand Justice -
for Guantánemo detainees,
Chicago Police torture survivors
and all victims of torture.

January 11th 2002, the day the first detainees arrived at Guantánemo. 2008 marks six years of abuse, detention and torture at the U.S. prison at Guantánemo.

It is also the beginning of another year without justice for survivors of police torture in Chicago.

---

Speakers and performers to include:

Lawyer and professor, Marc Falkoff, editor of Poems from Guantanamo: The Detainees Speak; Darrell Cannon, survivor of torture by the CPD; a representative from Black People Against Police Torture; and members of “Voices”, a Chicago vocal group who have frequently participated in the protests at SOA and who weave the politics of peace into songs of hope and struggle.

For more information contact:
Voices for Creative
Nonviolence
773-878-3815

Witness Against Torture From Guantánemo to Chicago

Join Us!

Friday, January 11 • 4:30pm
Federal Plaza (Dearborn and Adams)

To Demand Justice -
for Guantánemo detainees,
Chicago Police torture survivors
and all victims of torture.

January 11th 2002, the day the first detainees arrived at Guantánemo. 2008 marks six years of abuse, detention and torture at the U.S. prison at Guantánemo.

It is also the beginning of another year without justice for survivors of police torture in Chicago.

---

Speakers and performers to include:

Lawyer and professor, Marc Falkoff, editor of Poems from Guantanamo: The Detainees Speak; Darrell Cannon, survivor of torture by the CPD; a representative from Black People Against Police Torture; and members of “Voices”, a Chicago vocal group who have frequently participated in the protests at SOA and who weave the politics of peace into songs of hope and struggle.

For more information contact:
Voices for Creative
Nonviolence
773-878-3815

